Juvenile Accountability Incentive Block Grant Program

Submitted by the City of College Station-May 2000

PLAN SUMMARY

SECTION I. Statement of the Problem

Teen offenders don't appear to have a realistic vision of their future and how today's choices will affect their lives forever. They need training and tools for goal-setting and decision-making that will yield positive results, self-esteem, and success.

SECTION 2: Goal Statement

- Train first-time juvenile offenders to identify values, set goals, and evaluate negative vs. positive choices and the end result of each path.
- Develop a local juvenile services resource guide for parents, schools, courts, and other juvenile workers.

SECTION 3: Target Groups:

This program is expected to serve first or second time teenage offenders, between the ages of 12 and 18, who have been referred to the College Station Municipal Court for class C criminal misdemeanor offenses. It will serve a maximum of 200 teens annually as a required part of their community service through College Station Municipal Court and College Station Teen Court.

SECTION 4: Project Activities:

Educational Component Part I.

This portion of the plan addresses Purpose Areas 2 and 7- Eligible teens will be referred to an 8-hour program as a routine part of their sentencing for first or second time criminal offenses as deemed appropriate by the Municipal Court Judge or the Teen Court Coordinator. Classes will be scheduled from 8-5 pm on Saturdays as needed to accommodate the case load. Classes will be limited to 20 students per session.

This program is based upon "Eight Keys to Change" as a philosophical approach to helping teens identify and understand that they are in control of their choices and those choices will make the difference in their ultimate success or failure in life.

Information Sharing Component Part II.

This portion of the program addresses Purpose Area 10-

As a part of this program, the coalition will create a network of county-wide juvenile assistance providers to meet quarterly to share information. The main purpose would be to create an information-sharing environment and to compile and publish a Brazos County Juvenile Services Resource Guide.

SECTION 5: Project Objectives

- A maximum of 200 first time offenders will complete the 8 hour class
- A minimum of 75% of those completing the class will show no repeat offenses through the College Station Municipal Court jurisdiction for a period of one year from the completion date of their probation.
- A minimum of 1500 Juvenile Service Resource Guides will be printed.
- Resource guides will be distributed as needed to juvenile offenders families, juvenile case workers, judges, police, and schools as referral and assistance with further needs.

COORDINATED ENFORCEMENT PLAN FOR REDUCING JUVENILE CRIME

SECTION I. Statement of the Problem

Teen offenders don't appear to have a realistic vision of their future and how today's choices will affect their lives forever. They need training and tools for goal-setting and decision-making that will yield positive results, self-esteem, and success.

SECTION 2: Goal Statement

- Train first-time juvenile offenders to identify values, set goals, and evaluate negative vs. positive choices and the end result of each path.
- Develop a local juvenile services resource guide for parents, schools, courts, and other juvenile workers.

SECTION 3: Target Groups:

College Station is a municipality in Brazos County, central Texas, with land area of 40.8 square miles and a population of 66,580.

This program is expected to serve first or second time teenage offenders, between the ages of 12 and 18, who have been referred to the College Station Municipal Court for class C criminal misdemeanor offenses. It will serve a maximum of 200 teens annually as a required part of their community service through College Station Municipal Court and College Station Teen Court.

SECTION 4: Project Activities:

Educational Component Part I.

This portion of the plan addresses Purpose Areas 2 and 7- Accountability based programs and sanctions for juvenile offenders.

Eligible teens will be referred to an 8-hour program as a routine part of their sentencing for first or second time criminal offenses as deemed appropriate by the Municipal Court Judge or the Teen Court Coordinator. Classes will be scheduled from 8-5 pm on Saturdays as needed to accommodate the case load. Classes will be limited to 20 students per session.

This program is based upon "Eight Keys to Change" as a philosophical approach to helping teens identify and understand that they are in control of their choices and those choices will make the difference in their ultimate success or failure in life.

Participants will discuss and be allowed to experiment and apply sound principles of change in a supportive environment. The program allows them to "buy in" to a process that can be used for the rest of their lives.

Juvenile Accountability Incentive Block Grant Program

Submitted by the City of College Station-May 2000

1. Develop an individualized understanding of the relationship between values, attitudes, and behavior as they relate to decision-making.
2. Initiate an intrinsic commitment to change.
3. Promote participation in a process that concentrates on the individual's need to build self-esteem as a part of the change process.
4. Establish a supportive environment based on trust that allows for trial and error.
5. Employ a group process technique to ensure each individual is actively involved in a behavioral change.
6. Use a standardized curriculum that directs the learning process and ensures consistency in the acquisition of information.
7. Use a personality-typing system to break down barriers and build self-esteem.
8. Focus on the practice and acquisition of skills so that each participant has the opportunity to bring about change in behavior.

The focus of this program will be on misdemeanor type offenses to try and change attitudes and behavior before future choices lead to a higher level of criminal offense. It will provide tools that can be used to help the teen identify and understand his/her own attitudes and behaviors and begin to take steps to make more positive choices, avoid negative influences, handle stress and take responsibility for themselves.

Information Sharing Component Part II.

This portion of the program addresses Purpose Area 10- Establishing and maintaining interagency information-sharing programs that enable the juvenile and criminal justice system, school, and social services agencies to make more informed decisions regarding the early identification, control, supervision, and treatment of juveniles who repeatedly commit serious delinquent or criminal acts.

There is a lack of county-wide coordinated and published information for use by courts, schools, probation officers and police departments regarding social, psychological, health, educational, and economic assistance to help juveniles and families in crisis.

As a part of this program, the coalition will create a network of county-wide juvenile assistance providers to meet quarterly to share information. The main purpose would be to create an information-sharing environment and to compile and publish a Brazos County Juvenile Services Resource Guide. This resource book will be used to guide families to the assistance they need to improve the quality of their lives.

Along with the quarterly networking, we propose to hire a college student intern to research, organize and design a format for the resource guide needed to assist families.

Juvenile Accountability Incentive Block Grant Program

Submitted by the City of College Station-May 2000

SECTION 5: Project Objectives

A maximum of 200 first time offenders will:

- Complete a pre-and post test as a benchmark.
- Identify their own core values.
- Discuss how attitudes can override values
- Take a personality inventory discuss with the group
- Discuss how differing personalities interact
- Write a set of short, medium and long range goals that each student would like to accomplish
- Develop a written LIFE PLAN for how these goals can be accomplished
- Discuss negative vs. positive choices and the ultimate results of each path
- Discuss finding one's life purpose
- Currently no educational component is being required as part of the community service portion of probation for this target group.

A minimum of 75% of those completing the class will:

- Show no repeat offenses through the College Station Municipal Court jurisdiction for a period of one year from the completion date of their probation.
- Current data on repeat offenses is not being kept.

A minimum of 1500 Juvenile Service Resource Guides will be printed and distributed among juvenile case workers and families in need of help. Current data not available .
